THE FORUM'S GREATEST HITS: 1976-2016

2016 ANNUAL MEETING
CELEBRATING  THE FORUM'S 40 YEARS
APRIL 28-30, 2016 NASHVILLE OMNI NASHVILLE, TN

ABA FORUM ON CONSTRUCTION LAW

BUILDING THE BEST CONSTRUCTION LAWYERS

DEAR COLLEAGUES:

2016 marks the 40th anniversary of the ABA Forum on Construction Law and we welcome you to Nashville, TN — Music City USA, to celebrate this milestone! The festive, growing city of Nashville, home to the Grand Ole Opry and the Country Music Hall of Fame, is the perfect place to mark this incredible occasion.

Throughout the past 40 years, the Forum has prided itself on building the best construction lawyers in the industry. This has been achieved by providing outstanding seminars, excellent books and periodicals and cutting-edge leadership on legal issues affecting the construction industry. We can think of no better way to commemorate the Forum's 40th anniversary than by highlighting its wealth of knowledge and rich history.

Since we are in the Music City, we assembled a program of the Forum's "Greatest Hits." The meeting will welcome back many of our most popular past programs and presenters to reprise their presentations with new and interesting updates. These include the Ethics of Social Media, Risk Management and Insurance Coverage Issues, Payment-Related Provisions, the Inside/Outside Counsel Relationship, an Analysis of the AIA A201 General Conditions and Defective Work, Effective Litigation.

We also added some "bonus tracks" — programs that have not yet been seen before, but that honor the top-notch programming for which the Forum is known. The program will kick off with a session examining the development of construction law over the past 40 years from some of the Forum's leaders who have been a part of its evolution.

Of course, no trip to Nashville is complete without music. To that end, we have planned a Thursday night "block party" that is sure to be a crowd pleaser. We also hope you join us for a Friday afternoon tour of the Country Music Hall of Fame, and that you will take the opportunity to enjoy Nashville's wealth of live music venues.

The 2016 Annual Meeting presents a unique opportunity to travel down memory lane with the best of the Forum's past programs and presenters. We look forward to seeing you in Nashville!

Are Arbitrators and Jurors Really That Different?

Every construction trial lawyer thinks they know the differences between the way arbitrators and jurors decide cases. But what does the data show? And have you ever compared the juror's reasoning against the arbitrator's as they deliberated over the same case with the same facts? This session presents the current research from the law and social sciences regarding the similarities and differences between arbitrators and jurors and highlights a study that analyzed arbitrator and juror decision making on the same case. Combined with insights from an arbitrator, construction trial lawyers will learn techniques for more effective persuasion of arbitrators and jurors.

The Social Media Thicket:

Why Should There Be Any Ethical Issues?

No construction lawyer can afford to ignore social media; however, social media usage raises a host of ethical issues, ranging from judges “friending” lawyers (and vice-versa) to investigating witnesses and jurors to improper “advertising” to unlawful practice to unauthorized multi-state practice to the First Amendment rights of lawyers to screening of employees and law firm policies for employees’ use of social-media. Nationally-known speaker Michael H. Rubin will address all of these issues with his unique blend of humor and scholarship, plus one of the most unusual and entertaining multi-media presentations you’ll ever see.

WORKSHOP A

10:30 A.M. – 11:30 A.M.

When Reasonable People Differ: Keeping the Project On Track

When a dispute arises on a project, the typical approach is for the parties to reserve their respective rights and delay resolution of their differences until the end of the project. Unfortunately, this approach creates an adversarial relationship between project participants and often results in a very expensive claims process that can last for years after project completion. This session will address the use of project mediators, dispute resolution boards and other processes available to promote the “real-time” resolution of disputes as they arise on a project.

“Cost of the Work”: Tricks and Traps To Avoid In Contract Drafting

What did the downturn teach us about the manner in which reimbursable costs and general conditions expenses can be claimed and defined? This mock negotiation will address the inclusion or exclusion of various items as costs reimbursable to the contractor including which elements of “general conditions” costs should be included or treated as part of overhead or fee. Our speakers will also discuss the “cost of the work” as that term is addressed in industry forms and recent case law decisions.

WORKSHOP C

Best Value In Action

With the increase in “at risk” construction management and P3 projects, the use of “Best Value” procurement has emerged in popularity since this program first aired in 2003. How have best value selection techniques been used over the last 13 years? What do we now know to be the strengths, weaknesses, and risks of best value procurement? What are the practical legal issues facing owners, construction and design firms when using or participating in a Best Value procurement?

PROGRAM SCHEDULE

WORKSHOP D

11:45 A.M. – 12:45 P.M.

The Construction Defect Case: Litigating the Defect Or Litigating the Coverage?

In 2009, this panel predicted that the ability to obtain insurance coverage for construction defect claims was going to be a hot and divisive issue across the United States ... and they were right. Hundreds of decisions have been issued addressing whether construction defect claims constitute an accidental “occurrence” within the meaning of the commercial liability insurance policy, and hundreds more have been issued addressing the nature and scope of the various policy exclusions that apply to these kinds of claims. Also as predicted, there is a lot of disagreement among the courts. This panel will bring you up to date on where the law is today, and how you can best position your client with respect to the coverage issues to improve the chances of resolving their claim.

Topics will include:

- Preparing your client for deposition.
- Preparing to take the deposition of an adverse witness.

- Taking and defending Rule 30(b)(6) depositions.
- The ethical and legal boundaries relating to defending depositions.
- Special considerations for expert depositions.
- Closing the loop – What to do after the deposition has been concluded.
